Payson on the McKinley Bill.

EMPEROR WILLIAM ALL RIGHT.

The Execution of Three Negro Murderers.

Some New Overland Traffic Arrangements.

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Before beginning the debate on the silver bill, at the request of Payson of Illinois, Conger of Iowa, in charge of the bill, modified his substitute so as to provide that the Treasury notes issued in pursuance of the bill be legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private, striking out the following words: "Except where otherwise expressly stipulated in the contract."

Payson said that he realized that the substitute would in substance pass this body, and it would be done in obedience to public sentiment, which he believed to be universal in favor of a larger use of silver as a money metal, and of a further increase of the currency of the country. That if the Government used silver at all it should be used as a money metal and not as a commodity. He was opposed to the substitute because of that, but he expected to give it his support in this contingency. He hoped the opportunity would be given to strike out the bullion redemption feature. This bill is bound to be considered at the other end of the Capitol and it would be amended there. Nine hundred and ninety-nine of every thousand of his constituents are opposed to this bill, and he said in the presence of the House and the country, that nine hundred and ninety-nine canvases would never couple him to misrepresent the people he represented. Payson then proceeded to criticize the silver policy of the Hayes, Arthur, Cleveland and Harrison administrations, and referred to the denunciation of the Cleveland administration by the Republican party, and said that he endorsed that denunciation all over Illinois. Nothing, he said, afforded more pleasure than the denunciation of the Cleveland Administration for its treatment on silver. He came down to the Republican Administration and said it was no better (applause); that silver had no friend in the Treasury Department since the agitation began, and when he was asked to vote for a proposition confiding to the Secretary of the Treasury's discretion in the use of silver as a money metal, if this were the end of it, he would vote against it. Never had a discretion been confided to a Secretary of this country where it was possible to evade it, that it has not been evaded. If a discretion vested in the Secretary of the Treasury had been fairly used for the past six months, let alone seven or eight years, no such legislation as this would be under discussion to-day (applause). The Treasury officials were the friends of gold, and gold alone. Instead of being a bill for the coinage of silver, it was a measure which practically prohibited the coinage of silver dollars (applause).

Payson was followed by Mitchell of Pennsylvania and Hatch of Missouri in opposition to the bill.

The voting on the silver bill began at 3 o'clock. After disposing of several unimportant amendments, the question was on the adoption of the substitute (agreed upon in caucus).

pending, which Bland of Missouri moved to recommit to the committee with instructions to report a free coinage bill. The motion was defeated—yeas 110, nays 141.

A vote was taken immediately upon the adoption of the substitute bill, which passed—yeas 135, nays 119. Representative Cooper, of Indiana, presented in the House, a resolution which was referred to Committee on Sales, directing the Committee on Invalid Persons to inquire into and report to the House upon certain charges regarding the management of the pension bureau. Among other things, the resolution asserts that the Commissioner of Pensions recently, by an unjust and partial ruling, advanced and caused to be taken up out of order, many thousands of claims of a certain attorney residing in Washington, and that in consideration the attorney has become surety on a note of the Commissioner for $25,000.

SENATE.

Mitchell's motion to reconsider the vote on passing the Senate bill to authorize the construction of a bridge across the Columbia river by the Oregon Railroad Extension Company was amended by striking out the section which repeals all former acts authorizing bridges wherever construction had not been commenced, and, so amended, the bill was passed.

The Senate bill to provide an additional Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona was passed.

New Traffic Arrangement.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 7.—Important traffic arrangements have been completed between the Northern Pacific and Milwaukee & St. Paul roads.

Since the alliance between the Northwestern and Union Pacific better time has been made between Chicago and Portland than could be made over the Wisconsin Central from Chicago and the Northern Pacific from St. Paul. The result is great inroads have been made upon the first-class business of the Northern Pacific. The latter therefore made overtures to the Milwaukee & St. Paul for a traffic arrangement for through passenger business. The arrangement has been completed. Pullman sleepers will run through from Chicago to Portland and other Pacific points. Just what time the trip from Chicago to Portland will consume has not yet been announced, but it will, it is said, be considerably shorter than that via the Northwestern and Union Pacific. The first train under the new schedule will leave Chicago on June 15th.

A Land Grant Decision.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The Secretary of the Interior has rendered a decision in the case of S. R. Childs of the Los Angeles, Cal., Land District vs. The Southern Pacific Railroad, in which he denies Childs' motion for a review by the Department of the decision of October 8, 1889. In that decision, which was adhered to, it was held that in the case of a private land claim of a quantity within larger outer boundaries only so much of said larger tract is reserved for the adjustment of said claim as may be required for a satisfaction thereof, and the lands within the larger outer boundaries of unlocated claims of this class are subject to the operation of a railroad grant at the date when it becomes effective, except as to the quantity annually required to satisfy said claim.

The Latest From the Southern Pacific Ocean.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The ocean steamer Alameda arrived this morning, twenty-four days from Sidney and six days from Honolulu.

The United States flagship Charleston arrived at Honolulu on the morning of May 29th, having left San Francisco on the 21st. The cruiser was an object of much interest to the people of the islands. On the 30th, Admiral Brown and staff and Minister Stevens were received by King Kalakaua.

The United States steamer Nipic remains in port, and the United States steamer Adams arrived at Honolulu on May 17th from Samoa.

The Hawaiian Legislative Assembly arrived at Samoa on April 28th.

The Hawaiian Legislative Assembly of 1890 was opened on May 21st by the King, who, in his address, stated that during the biennial period just closed the country had enjoyed a great degree of prosperity, and the financial affairs of the kingdom were on a sound basis.

Favors High License.

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 6.—Dean Peabody, of the Emanuel Episcopal Church, has thrown a bomb into the ranks of the prohibitionists by declaring in a sermon that he had no faith in State prohibition, nor any sympathy for it. He believed that there should be a uniform license of $1,000 the country over, and that the number of saloons should be reduced to at least not more than one to every 500 persons.

He characterized as a sacrilege the substitution of water or anything else for sacramental purposes. He had heard of one sect that soaked raisins in water over night and then used the water in administering the sacrament. They would not employ fermented wine in the observance of that holy office. They might as well have used milk or anything else. Indeed they might as well abolish the sacrament entirely as to undertake to change the means directed by the Savior when He said: "Do this in remembrance of Me."

Battle with Lake Pirates.

ERIE, Pa., June 6.—The fishermen along this coast have been having a hard fight with the Pirates. Last night Captain J. A. Darle went out with one assistant to watch the nets, and when they bore down on a boat containing three pirates they were fired upon. Darle and his man returned, and taking his steam yacht, gave chase and overtook the pirates, and after a desperate fight, in which knives, pistols and axes played a part, they got the pirates fast and made port with them. They proved to be three well-to-do farmers—Charles Smith, Wm. Thompson and James Niece—of Fairview. They were jailed on a charge of attempting to kill.

A Chinese Slave.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 6.—Ching Sing, a wealthy Chinese physician, 60 years of age, was married to-day to Ah Gin, a pretty Chinese girl 17 years of age. Ching Sing became a widower eighteen months ago, and sent to San Francisco for a wife, paying $600 for her to her deputy father or guardian, her parents residing in China. The ceremony performed was according to the Chinese custom. A ceremony after the American laws will be performed to-morrow.

Copper Advancing.

By Cable and Associated Press.] BIRMINGHAM, June 7.—The copper market is excited to-day over the receipt of a telegram from Chili. The price of copper has risen nearly $2 since yesterday. LONDON, June 7.—Yesterday copper rose 17s. 6d. The failure of a large operator in Rio Tinto shares in Paris, together with the rise in the price of the metal, forced up the prices of all copper mine shares.

Indignant Blue-Noses.

By Associated Press.] ST. JOHN (N. B.), June 7.—The newspapers are outspoken on the subject of the fisheries troubles. The Herald says England must fight France or abandon her British-American possessions.

The Colonist says that the British naval officers on this station should be clad with petticoats instead of breeches and adorned with lawn-tennis racquets; that the British ships in Newfoundland waters are ostensibly for the fisheries' protection, but in reality they are here to bolster up French claims to the fisheries and play lawn-tennis.

The furious address of the Legislature to the Queen relative to the fishery troubles here, published several days ago, has not yet passed the Legislature. This document was a rough draft of the proposed address, a copy of which, it is supposed, was purloined by some one in the Government Printing office. The address may be modified considerably by the Legislature before it is passed.

Comfortable Positions.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—It is expected that Windom will next week appoint a Board of General Appraisers of Customs, nine in number, as authorized by the McKinley bill. The places are said to do worth $6,000 a year and expenses and will be filled from the customs experts. It is very probable that Assistant Secretary Tichenor, whom Secretary Windom took from the customs service in spite of the efforts of politicians to get hold of the assistant secretaryship, will be appointed secretary of the Board. Beyond this there is little but guesswork as to the probable appointees. Col. Bingham of Boston and Col. J. Granville Leach of Philadelphia are prominently mentioned for these places. Governor Thompson of South Carolina, Civil Service Commissioner, is being pressed. It is probable that one or two of the members will be taken from the Pacific Coast.

A Valuable Present.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—On behalf of a number of unknown subscribers, Wannamaker and editor McKean called at the White House and presented Mrs. Harrison with a deed for a large cottage at Cape May Point, where she spent a portion of last summer.

A Twenty-Three Round Fight.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Clem Denning, of New York, and Dan Corbett, of Brooklyn, middleweights, fought near Coney Island this morning, London prize ring rules. Denning won after a great battle of 23 rounds. Two hundred persons witnessed the fight.

The Silver Situation.

The account of pending silver legislation given in the GAZETTE dispatches is not very clear, but as we understand the caucuses measure reported by McKinley, it should not receive the votes of the friends of free coinage. It is proposed to purchase silver bullion at the market price to the extent of four and one-half millions per month, and to issue in payment therefor silver certificates, which certificates are to be made legal tender for the payment of all debts, public and private. If the proposed legislation stopped there—if it were proposed to coin the bullion purchased, or even to pile it up in the Treasury vaults—the measure would certainly increase the price of silver, for it would absorb the silver bullion product of the United States, and it might lead in the end to free coinage. But the second section of the bill—which McKinley vainly endeavored to induce the caucuses to eliminate—provides that the silver certificates issued for the purchase of bullion may, at the option of the Secretary of the Treasury, be redeemed in silver bullion at the market price. This provision of the proposed law is vicious in principle and would in practice prove disastrous to the silver cause. It might temporarily advance the price of bar silver and it might not. It would enable the Secretary of the Treasury at any time to throw all or a part of the Government stock of silver bullion upon the market and depress the price. It would make silver a fancy stock to be tossed by the bulls and pulled down by the bears of Wall street. The silver producer could not know whether he was to receive seventy-five cents or a dollar and a quarter for his month's clean-up, and the farmer would be left in his present condition of insolvency and despair. As the present compulsory coinage law would be repealed, it would also be in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury to suspend the coinage of silver altogether, and it is past doubt that such "discretion" would be enforced in accordance with the mandates of Wall street.

We have hopes that the outcome of the present contest will be a free coinage law. If there is, as claimed, a majority of the House in favor of free coinage, it is not probable that by any parliamentary jugglery of the gold-bugs a vote upon free coinage can be prevented. And even if prevented now and the caucus bill passed, it would go to the Senate; and if the Senate amended the bill so as to provide for free coinage, it would go to the House unfettered by any rules that would prevent the friends of free coinage from agreeing to the amendment. No man is authorized to say that Harrison will veto a free coinage bill. We are of the opinion that he will exert all the influence he can to prevent the passage of a free coinage law by the House and Senate, but if passed he will listen to the roar for free coinage that is coming up from the South and West and sign the bill.

A SCOTTISH deputation has asked the British Government to modify the restriction against American cattle. The restriction ostensibly aims to keep out pleuropneumonia, but there is more heard of that disease in Scotland to-day than in the United States. Almost every issue of Scottish journals contains accounts of herds sequestered or destroyed on account of that disease.

In Essex county, Ont., a member of Parliament has been elected on a square annexation issue. The county lies just across the river from Detroit, and is presumably pretty well under American influence. It is not a bad recommendation that those who live nearest to us must want to join us.

In any punishment that may be meted out to the Cheyennes who murdered the United States surveyors in Wyoming, it is to be hoped that the white men who furnished the Indians with whisky may not be forgotten.

THE Chinese slave-dealers in New York are giving that community a specimen of their methods by trying to get rid of witnesses by their familiar practice of assassination. The New Yorkers speak of it as a novel sociological development, but it is an old thing in California.

NEWS NOTES.

Ezra Leach, a farmer of Newton county, Miss., discovered $10,000 in gold while digging in his field a few days ago.

It is said that 30,000 strangers remain over in New York every night, furnishing plenty of business for the 125 hotels in the city.

The new City Directory of Topeka has been completed, and shows that the town has increased in population 2,400 within two years.

A million-dollar hotel is talked of for San Antonio, Texas. The culinary departments will be in the top story and the ground floor occupied by stores.

A hot wave, accompanied by abundant rains, has given vegetation a wonderful start in South Dakota, Southern Minnesota and Northern Iowa.

General Sherman is expected to attend the Armistice celebration at Portland, Maine, on the Fourth of July. The President will be invited.

As a result of a test just completed, the naval authorities report that the great dry dock at the Norfolk Navy Yard is not in the least injured, as reported.

At the Coroner's inquest into the Longue Point Asylum fire, near Montreal, a report was submitted showing that ninety-one inmates, instead of fifty, as formerly stated, lost their lives.

AN OLD SERMON.

How the Word "Certain" Was Interpreted in the Old Days.

This from the Baptist Index is exquisite, coming from a religious paper. It offers it as a specimen of the style of top-lobty preaching which was in order in the old staid, profound days. The Index says:

The preacher took as his text, "A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among thieves." And this is how he began: "My brethren, the Bible is a wonderful book. It says so much in a word. Now, there is very little said about the character of this man who fell among the thieves; but I know just what sort of a man he was. And first, he was a sober man; secondly, he was a punctual man; thirdly, he was an industrious man; and fourthly, he was a married man. And I learn all this about the man from one single word that the Bible says of him; it says he was a certain man. Now, we all know that there is no certainty in a drunkard, there is no certainty in a man who is not punctual to his engagements, no certainty in an idle loafer, and there is not one of these characters in forty that you can trust."

Make No Mistake

If you decide, from what you have heard of its cures or read of its merits, that you will take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy something else which may be claimed to be "about the same" or "just as good." Remember that the sole reason for efforts to get you to purchase some substitute is that more profit may be made. Firmly resist all inducements, and insist upon having just what you called for, Hood's Sarsaparilla. Then you will not be experimenting with a new article, for Hood's Sarsaparilla is Tried and True.

"In one store the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's Sarsaparilla. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was, I had taken it, was perfectly satisfied with it, and did not want any other." Mrs. ELBA A. GORR, 61 Terrace Street, Boston, Mass.

We Are All Taking It.

Strong Language.

J. B. Langbran, ex-mayor of North Des Moines, Iowa, said recently: "I have just recovered from a severe attack of la grippe. I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm to my breast. These remedies were just the thing in my case. My child had croup some years ago, and we used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with perfect success, since then we have never been without these medicines in our house. I had a cousin who was a printer and was employed in a job office in this city, where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep-seated cold and a terrible cough, and while setting up the copy he made up his mind to buy a bottle. It cured his cough and that was the first time I ever knew anything of Chamberlain's remedies. I have been strongly in their favor ever since. My own experience and that of my family convince me that these remedies are the best in the world. That may be strong language, but that is what I think." For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

The Preventive of a Terrible Disease.

No disorders, except the most deadly forms of lung disease, involve such a tremendous destruction to the organic tissue as those which fasten upon the kidneys. Such maladies, when they become chronic, and none are so liable to assume that phase—completely wreck the system. To prevent this terrible disease, recourse should be had, upon the first manifestation of trouble, to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which experience has proved to be highly effective as a means of imparting tone and regularity to the organs of urination, as well as to the liver, stomach and bowels. Another beneficial result of this medicine, naturally consequent upon its diuretic action, is the elimination from the blood of impurities which, being rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, dropsy and other maladies. By increasing the activity of the kidneys, it augments the excretory efficiency of these organs, which are most important outlets for the escape of such impurities.

A Scrup of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time, she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought an even larger and better bottle, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing up to 150 lbs. For further particulars send stamp to W. B. Cole, druggist, Dr. Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful Discovery free by W. B. Pinner's drug store.

Somebody Tells Somebody.

Dr. B. Hamlin, of Lemore, Cal., says a few dozen bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which he sold there created such a demand for the remedy that he could not well do without it. Those who use it find it so much superior to any other remedy they have ever tried that they recommend it to their friends, and that is what makes it so popular. For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

A Sure Cure for Piles.

Hemorrhoids are known by moisture, like perspiration causing intense itching when warm. NEVADA'S POSITION.

"Until the East Yields Justice to the West!"—The Republican State Central Committee speaks.

Special to the GAZETTE.] VIRGINIA, June 7.—At a special meeting of the Republican State Central Committee called at Virginia City at 2 o'clock to-day, (May 7, 1890), it was unanimously

Resolved, That the vital interests of Nevada demand the immediate enactment by Congress of laws that shall restore silver to its proper place as a money metal; that all other interests should yield to this; that we earnestly request and urge our Senators, as well as the Senators from Montana and Colorado and Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, to subordinate and, if necessary, sacrifice all other issues and defer action on all other legislation to this end, and to withhold their support from the Tariff bill until the east yields justice to the west on the silver bill.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolution be furnished the Associated Press and telegraphed to the National Silver Committee for delivery to each of the Senators named.

A LIGHTNING STROKE.

A "Never-sent" Gets Partly Knocked Out by an Electrical Current.

When the sharp flash of lightning came last Monday afternoon, says the Susanville Advocate, Ben Leavitt was sitting with his feet on the fender of the stove at Judge McCluskey's, when a part of the electrical fluid must have run down the stovepipe and communicated with Ben's legs through the medium of the nails in his boots. He was knocked up standing about four feet away from his chair, and experienced a queer, prickly sensation all over his body. If he had not been pondering on his great irrigation scheme just then, he would doubtless have been killed. Water is a sure non-conductor, and as his head was full of water at the time, his great brain was saved to the world.

Miss McCluskey, who was also sitting near the stove at the time, received quite a shock, and all in the room were badly frightened.

"PAUL KAUFAR."

A Good Play Artistically Presented.

Last evening's Virginia Chronicle says: "Paul Kaufar" is without question the most thrilling drama on the modern stage, and as presented by the Haworth Company at the Opera House last evening was the most absorbing interest by the realistic manner in which the stirring, bloody scenes in the French capital, during the reign of Robespierre, are reproduced. Joseph Haworth's presentation of the hero of the play was a finished piece of dramatic work, as was also that of Miss Lizzie Rechelle in the role of Diane. The supporting cast was excellent, and the unanimous verdict of the audience is that Mr. Haworth is entitled to the complimentary mention made of him by press critics.

HUMBOLDT ITEMS.

Placed Under Bonds—Banks That are Larger Than Ceres.

A McDermitt correspondent of the Winnemucca Silver State writes: J. N. Vance, Charles Coburn, John McGuire and J. M. King, who were taken to Portland, Or., by the United States Marshal, were placed under bonds of $1,000 each to appear for trial in the United States District Court at Portland on a charge of perjury in relation to land matters.

Wild ducks, which seem larger than ordinary geese, have made their appearance on the creek below Ten-mile Station. They are shy, and, as hunters cannot get within range of them, an effort is being made to trap one, as none of the kind were ever seen here before by the whites.

Remembering Him Kindly.

The University Cadets marched to the Riverside Hotel last evening to meet their late instructor in military tactics, Major A. C. Ducat, Jr., to whom they presented an elegant water pitcher. The presentation speech was made by Cadet Fred Frey, and feelingly responded to by Major Ducat. The pitcher bears this inscription: "Presented to A. C. Ducat, Jr., U. S. A., by the Cadets of the Nevada State University, June 12, 1890."

Confidence in the Future.

J. E. Jones of Reno, and also of Madeline, was in Susanville Monday from his ranch at the latter place. The Advocate says Mr. Jones has a fine ranch, with plenty of water, and a large amount of hay. He has a high opinion of the future of this section, especially of Reno, which he thinks is destined to become a thriving railroad center.

Frost in Honey Lake.

The frosts of the last week did some damage to garden produce and to the more delicate fruits in Honey Lake Valley. Peaches were injured and some apples are nipped; blackberries and small fruits also suffered some. It is the general impression that the apple crop will not be a very large one.

The Name Given.

The Postmaster here desires to know the name of the person mentioned by the Reno GAZETTE as having received a letter last week that was mailed at Reno last November.—Silver State.

The Letter was Received at Winnemucca by Mrs. Roger Treweek.

The letter was received at Winnemucca by Mrs. Roger Treweek a little more than six months after being mailed at the Reno office.

A False Report.

The report that Indians killed a man, his wife and two children, near Pantano, A. T., is untrue. A party has returned from there who says the rumor that hostile Indians were depredating originated from the fact that eighteen Apaches are off the reservation with passes hunting the cactus fruit. They are armed and the people are very nervous since the Hardie murder.

Forty-Cent Officials.

The Carson Appeal says: In the Governor's office are hanging several very fine photographs representing Nevada's exhibit at the Paris Exposition. The pictures are very fine and entitled to better frames. Forty-cent frames on pictures of that kind give a visitor a ridiculous idea of State economy.

Coming to Nevada.

THE WORK OF RECLAMATION.

What Is Being Done by Our Neighbors at the North.

The Susanville Advocate has been visiting the Hutchinson & Leavitt system of irrigation in Honey Lake Valley, and says: After riding around a portion of the great reservoir and down the entire length of the distributing ditch, which is no small trip, its finished and unfinished length being 12 miles, we took a walk up Byer's Mountain, an elevation abutting the lake and about 1,300 feet above its level. After much hard climbing over masses of broken granite and reefs of lava, the summit was reached, and the glorious panorama of snow-capped ranges and quiet valleys below was spread out before us. Honey Lake on one side, with its 100 square miles of surface, occupying about one-fifth of the great valley, and on the other side Leavitt Lake, with its supply canal and distributing ditches, all laid down as plainly as on an engineer's map, their tortuous lines winding for miles in and out through the sagebrush, easily discernible by the flashing of the sunbeams on the water.

Here, for the first time, we saw and comprehended the full significance of this irrigation scheme, which is destined soon to reclaim and make beautiful all that large body of magnificent land west and north of Honey Lake. The natural advantages of this system are beyond a question. No floods can destroy it; no limit can be placed to its capacity, and after the water has been used on the land it will eventually find its way into the great drainage reservoir of the valley, Honey Lake.

The Hutchinson & Leavitt system of irrigation is based upon their appropriation of surplus waters of Susan river. Aside from storage reservoirs in the mountains above Susanville, their chief reliance is upon the storage of water in Lake Leavitt. From the dam on Bob Johnson's ranch, four miles below Susanville, water is taken to Lake Leavitt by a large canal. It is 5 miles long, 30 feet wide and about 3 feet deep, and pours a large stream into the natural dry lake, or lagoon, which has been converted into a reservoir. About 1,200 acres are now covered with water, held in reserve by the natural banks, excepting a few hundred yards of levee. This levee is to be extended and made high and strong enough to cover more than 2,000 acres to an average depth of 20 feet.

Through the bank and under the levee an iron outlet pipe and gate has been placed at the upper end of the main distributing canal. This reservoir is about central in Township 29, Range 13, and the last-named canal has been extended on its winding way for the conversion of a desert into gardens and fruitful farms, entirely apart from the water of Byer's Mountain, a distance by the course of the canal, of about twelve miles. From this main canal laterals have been run due eastward, covering a large part of the town township. The general trend of the country is east and south, falling about six and eight feet per mile, and from these laterals, irrigating ditches running south supply the whole land. A few small natural ditches or drains break the otherwise even surface, and advantage is taken of these as aids in directing the flow of the water.

The GAZETTE is glad to see the energy displayed by our neighbor at the north in reclaiming Honey Lake Valley, for no section of the country offers greater inducements to the homeseeker. Messrs. Dodge and McGrath have done arduous work for the good cause, and the GAZETTE is glad to see that the result of their labors will bear fruit in the near future.
